PROFESSIONAL SUMMARY

I began coding at an early age with a natural curiosity for how things work. Started my freelance career on Upwork at 18 while pursuing a BTech in Computer Science. In 2020, I developed and launched Pregsee, an MVP app on the Play Store, within 8 Months. Later joined Hireflex as an early team member helped create internal tools and process that increased overall operations efficiency by 20%. Skilled in Flutter, NextJs, Nodejs and React, I excel at looking things from a fundamental perspective and figuring out things that I don't know. Currently seeking a Mobile and web application development position where I can leverage my technical expertise in a collaborative environment to create impactful solutions.
